RIVER AND STEAMBOAT MATTERS

The river had risen nearly two inches last evening. A dispatch from Frankfort received at noon yesterday says the river there had risen Cinches and was still rising. At Pittsburg it was also rising yesterday and raining hard. The indications now are very flattering for a full resumption of navigation. The weather is

The canal is now open and several boats ha passed through. There is more water in it than there is on the bars between Cincianati and Cairo.

The Nashville Whig of Saturday says:

The river continues to improve slowly. The body of the rise has passed down, but there will be water enough for small boats on the shoals for some time yet.

The S. P. Hibbdrd is the mailboat for Cincinnati to day and the Clifton is the Carrollton packet.

The light-draught packet Tennessee leaves for Cairo this evening and the Erc for New Orleans.

New Nashvitle Packet .- The fine steamer Diamond will go into the Nashville trade as soon as the stage of the river will admit. She is a fine boat and has spiendid accommodations and excellent officers.

freight for Fort Randall, was snagged in the Missouri river, two miles below Nebraska City, on Sunday, the 12 h ult. She was run ashore immediately, pumps worked successfully, and the leak stopped without damage, except to two hundred sacks of corn, which composed the bottom layer of freight in the nold.

The St. Louis Democrat of Sunday says:

The river opposite, at the present time, is falling 1.5t, having fallen between Wednesday night and last night at least 15 inches. It fell yester day alone 8 inches. The last boats from the Illinois, report that stream falling from Peoria down. The upper Mississippi is also falling, and it is thought that the boats which have reearly left with the intention of receiving the cently left with the intention of crossing the rapids, will fail in that purpose. The Missouri is falling again, having risen only a little—not enough to benefit navigation materially.

The Pittsburg Journal of Monday says: Last evening at 9 o'clock there were 2 feet 4 inches water in the channel and rising slowly There is now sufficient water for light-draught

AN AMERICAN SWINDLE IN PARIS -The following paragraph is from a Paris letter to the

New York Express: - Some months since an association was organized in Paris, calling itself a "Colonization Soclety," and claiming to own a million acres of land in Western Virginia. Grants of this land were sold at very low prices, and the bait was taken very well among the uncautious, when it was found that the title to the lands which the company claimed to possess was utterly worthless, the fact being that much of the lands were already occupied by peo le who had bought the property from the State of Virginia, under the law which enabled the Commonwealth to sell unclaimed real estate to pay taxes. In short, the whole agair was a swindle.

Bold Robbery.—On Monday evening, about hale past 9 o'clock, while Mr. John McElroy was in his store, some thief or thieves fasten him in by passing a stick through the latch of the door, and having thus prevented his ogress, they broke the glass in a window having a glass casing inside, and seized a small chest which was lying by the window on a ccunter, and machine with it. The trunk contained thirteen packages of bank bills, of a hundred dollars each, and three hundred dollars each, and three hundred dollars each, and three hundred dollars. This is the boldest, as it is one of the heaviest robberies which has taken place in this vicinity for a long time. - Boston Trav.

THE KENTUCKY SCHOOL OF MEDICINE. Under the present organization, this school opens with better auspices that at any former period of its history. Dr. C. W. Wright, professor of the chair of chemistry, delivered the introductory lecture of his course on Saturday night to a fashionable and highly intelligen! audience of ladies and gentlemen. It being the first of the course the fecture was demonstrative. The influence of the atmosphere on the mental and physical organization of man was dwelt upon and fully elucidated. Ventiliation, diffusion of gases, and many other interesting facts connected with public health were fully illustrated by numerous beautiful and striking experiments. Dr. Wright is an agreeable lecturer and a most accomplished physician. The School has reason to be proud of him as one of its professors.

Another Disaster on Lake Ezie .- A telegraphic dispatch from Buffalo says that the propeller Spaulding, with nearly a full load of valuable goods, was burned on Saturday morning at the American Transportation dock at that port. Vessel and cargo nearly a total loss. The propeller was bound to Toledo. The total loss by the burning of the Spaulding, cargo and vessel, is estimated at $90,000.

IS NATURALIZATION BY A COURTY COURT VALID?-The question was answered in the negative last year, by Hon. James Harlan, Attorney Gereral of Kentucky, and, for the information of the officers of the election, we here republish his opinion:

OFFICE OF ATTORNEY GENERAL, EFRANKFORT, July 26, 1855. J. B. PAYNE, Esq, Newport, Ky.:

SIR—The question upon which you desire my opinion, is whether the County Courts in this State, as at present organized, have the power to receive declarations of aliens, and, on application, to admit them to become citizen; of the United States?

By the 3 i section of the act of Congress of 1802, to establish a uniform rule of naturalizaion, every Court of Record in any individual State having Common Law Jurisdiction and a seal and clerk, or prothonotary, has the power to adjudicate and carry into effect the provisions of that act and the several amendments

Each of the County Courts in this State has a clerk and seal, and is a Court of Record by the Statute creating them. Revised Statutes, 235. But are they Courts of Common Law Jurisdiction within the meaning of the act of

By referring to the Revised Statutes (page 234) and the Code of Practice (title 2, section 15 to 29 inclusive), it will be seen that the juaffairs of the county court extends to the fiscal affairs of the county, laying and collecting a levy, erecting public buildings and bridges, appointing surveyors of public roads, the probate of wills, granting letters of administration, the division of lands and slaves, assignment of downstands. cr, establishment of ferries, cases of bastardy, &c. But there is nothing in the law that authorizes the institution of an action, civil or criminal, or the filing of a bill in equity, or vest-ing it with any common law jurisdiction what-

The jurisdiction to try appeals from justices of the peace, given by the Revised Statutes, is taken away by the Code of Practice. So that taken away by the Code of Practice. So that a county court cannot, in any aspect, be regarded as a court of common law jurisdiction, for the trial of cases, civil or criminal, at law or in equity, and consequently is not one of the courts embraced by the acts of Congress to whom jurisdiction is given to carry into effect the laws relating to the naturalization of altens. If my conclusions are right, it follows that certificates of naturalization—if any there be—granted by county courts are void. This opinion does not apply to the Jefferson County

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 31. Messrs. Bucknor, McCammon & Co., A. J. Lewis, Isaac Elliott, Moncure Robinson, Danen-hower and Harris, Stacy B. Bancroft, Joseph Grats, Dr. J. K. Mitchell, Joseph Cabet, Wetherill Lee, Arthur G. Coffin, and a large number of other em nent citizens, have issued the following address:

To the Old-Line Whigs and Fellmore Democrats of Pennsylvania.

It being now a settled fact that the friends of Millard Fillmore are determined to stand by their candidate, and have no connection with other organization, and we can thus vote for MElard Fillmore on broad national grounds, we call upon all conservative national men of Pennsylvania, who are opposed to the principles of the Cincinnati platform and the Ostend policy of its candidate, to unite with us in support of the true Fillmore and Donelson electoral ticket, headed with the name of Joseph R. Ingersoll, and sustain the man who knows no North, no South, no East, no West, and will stand by the Union and the Constitution, one and inseparable, now and forever. The tide is setting strongly in favor of the straight-out Fillmore electoral ticket, all over the State not withstand. toral ticket all over the State, notwithstand-ing the efforts of the Republican wire-pullers to embarrass the American party. Our friends are confident of doing a good day's work on Tuesday next. There is encouragement for hope in the signs of the times.

ALLEN CHAPEL STONED AGAIN. - We are informed that the delegation from the Thirteenth ward, to the Democratic meeting at Fifth street market square, Saturday night, on their return home, took occasion to pass Allen Chapel—the church of the negroes, which was stoned about the time of another Democratic demonstration—and halting in front of it, gave cheers for Buchanan and poured in volleys of stones, smashing the windows again. A more dastardly, brutal, and shocking exhibition of low flung scoundrelism, was never made. The poor people of Allen Chapel have not in any way wronged or interfered with the rowdies who persecute them but have, we believe, quietly and humbly attended to their own business. In no southern city would such atrocious outrages as the congregation of Allen Chepel have suffered be tolerated. If any set of loafers should go about stoning the churches of colored people in Charleston, they would be attended to with some energy.

But here a riot occurs in front of Allen Chapel, the congregation flies in terror in all directions, amid showers of stones, the officers come up after the disturbance is over, and find negroes with stones in their hands, prompted by the instinct of self-defence to seize upon something with which to strike a blowthe negroes are arrested-the rioters are not found—and the police judge fines the negroes. The outrage is repeated. Could not some "indefatigable" officer find a stray negro somewhere of whom to make another example? The procession is dissolved, and no one of our uni-formed officials could find a fragment of it, even if given the most positive "instructions." But the church is there. Why not have it indicted as a nuisance because it provokes the throwing of stones? - Cin Com

LOUISVILLE AND P RTLAND CANAL -Agen-States, and that the cost of its late important ernment. We learn from one of the Directors of the Company that this impression is errone-

In the year 1842, at the instance of the individual s'ockholders, the Legislature of Kentucky amended the charter of the Company, providing that the entire net receipts of the canal should be applied to the purchase and extinction of the individual stock; that, so soon as the same should be so extinguished, the Board of Directors should offer the work to the United States, and that thereafter no higher tolls should be charged than would be required to raise a sum sufficient to keep the canal in repair and defray the expense of its management. If the United States declined to receive it, the Board were then to offer it to the State of Kentucky, and, if declined by the State, they were to offer it to the city of Louisville

In January, 1855, the Board announced to the Treasury Department that they were prepared to extinguish the remaining individual stock, and to transfer the work to the United States. The Secretary of the Treasury replied that it could not be received until Congress should pass an act authorizing it, and requested that the President and Directors of the Company should each continue to hold one share of stock, so that the corporate organization might remain, and the Board continue to manage the work until Congress should furnish authority for its reception by the United States. Thus the matter yet stands. The Board is composed of James Marshall, Presiden'; G. W. Meriwether, J. H. Rhorer, Chas. H. Lewis, and Chas. W. Short, Directors.

In February, 1855, the Board reduced the toll to 25 cents per ton, a rate deemed adequate to raise a sufficient sum to put the work in proper repair. The net amount that had accrued up to the 1st of August, 1856, was about $87, 000, whereupon the canal was closed and a thorough repair commenced.

The canal has been in use about a quarter of a century, and this is the first effectual cleaning it has ever had. It is not surprising, therefore, that in some places the loose stone, broken wheel-timbers, sand, &c, had accumulated to a depth of four feet. It was generally found about three feet. The side ledges of stone, from four to eight feet in vertical thickness, and projecting from six to twelve feet within the lines of the canal, have now been blasted off and removed, leaving the walls perpendicular to the base line and making the narrow passes from ten to twelve feet wider. Two spacious basins have been completed, by the use of which boats meeting may pass each other. This is a most valuable improvement, as it will prevent the vexatious delays to which boats have so long been subjected. The locks have been thoroughly repaired. A side wall of one of them has been entirely rebuilt with new masonry. A strong guard-gate has been built near the head of the canal, by which the water can hereafter be shut off at any moment. The defective slope pavements have been substantially repaired Some of them have been replaced with new masonry; and the stone bridge, that abomination in the sight of all steamboatmen, has been taken down and removed and a pivot bridge, to replace it, is in process of construction.

Altogether, these improvements have requited a vast amount of labor, and it surprises was then advanced to 4½.

every one that they have been carried to comevery one that they have been carried to completion in so short a time. The Company was very fortunate in securing the services of Edward Wa'ts, Esq., of Carlisle, Pa, a very able civil engineer, of great practical experience, under whose direction and superintendence the work was placed, and he certainly deserves the warmest thanks of the steamboatmen, and indeed of the entire West, for the admirable manner in which he has carried it through. He has converted what was literally an obstruction into one of the best canals in the country.

We are pleased to learn that the Company have engaged Mr. Watts to make a survey for high course, such as becomes a Bourbon. a branch canal, with a new set of locks of sufficient dimensions to admit the larger classes of boats. We are assured that this may be done at a comparatively light cost, and it is believed that if the plan be properly presented, now that the entire West is united in favor of such an improvement, Congress will not deny the trifling appropriation it would require.

Handsomely Done.—A young married pair arrived in the city yesterday, from Buffalo, whose departure from that place was attended with a scene whose unpleasantness was aggra vated by its publicity. The bride is the daughter of a wealthy and aristocratic merchant in Buffalo, and one of the most lovely and accomplished women of that city, where loveliness and accomplishments seem natural to their sex The husband is a very respectable young gen-tleman, every way save in wealth an equal to the lady. The marriage, being opposed by the lady's father, was privately solemnized by a clergyman yesterday morning, and the bridal party had just arrived at the railroad depot to take passage for New York, when they were take passage for New York, when they were overtaken by the brother of the bride, who did not know of their marriage, and was led to be-lieve that his sister had sacrificed herself. A lieve that his sister had sacrificed herself. A rencontre ensued between him and the husband, during which he (the brother) drew a pistol. It was immediately taken trom him and fired in the air by the groomsman, who was in attendance, and the parties separated by him and another gentleman. The husband then claimed an explanation with the brother, exhibited the marriage certificate, and at once relieved his fears. The brother then ran to the father, who hastened to the cars, read the certificate, fret ted a little, as old mengenerally do when called up too early in the morning, granted his blessing to the happy pair, and got ashore just as the last bell rang.—Albert Knickerbecker.

[Correspendence of Commercial Advertiser.]

LONDON, October 17, 1:56.

The position of the money market is unchanged. Some accounts from Paris represent that the pressure upon the Bank of France is diminishing, but they are too vague to excite much confidence. Here the demand for gold for exportation, and the consequent influx of foreign paper for discount, is unabated, and there have even been apprehensions of a further rise in the rate. These were premature, but the Bank have not altogether abstained from increasing the existing restrictions. In ordinary circumstances they have usually been willing to advance money on Government stock on the same terms as those at which they have taken commercial bills, but the day before yesterday they refused to a ake loans of this kind for a longer period than seven days, and yesterday they announced that they would refuse them altogether.

This determination produced a renewed fall on the Stock Exchange. Consuls, which at the last date, were quoted at 913, had suddenly recovered to within a fraction of 92, owing to a report, which obtained general circulation yesterday morning, that the Bank of France had resolved to suspend specie payments, and, just as a reaction was commencing from a non confirmation of the jumor, the notification from the Bank on this side became known, which hastened the fall, which continued until they reached 90%. To day there has been a better feeling, and the final quotation is 91%.

The question whether the crisis is to continue depends entirely on the course of events in France, and, as the influences in operation in that country are in a great measure the results merely of panic, any attempt to solve the prob-lem must be vain. All persons here see that there is nothing to be done, but to wait day by day the quotations from the Paris Bourse, and the reports as to the fluctuations in the amount of bullion in the Bank of France and is branches. In this country, everything is sound, and the fact is confirmed from all quarters that there never was a period of such general ac-tivity, combined with so complete an absence of nahea.thy speculation.

The movements in the discount market fail to produce the slightest effect on the prices of produce or the industry of manufacturers; and out of the region of the stock exchauge no one would be aware, from any unusual signs, that the course of financial affairs was experiencing the slightest disturbance.

At the departure of the last packet there was a statement that the Bank of France had contracted with Messrs. Rothschild to supply them with $32,000,000 of gold, as fast as the means could be found. It is now said that a contract has been made, but that its exact amount is not known. According to some persons it is not more than half the total originally mentioned. All that is positively ascertained is that orders have been sent not merely to London, and to various parts of the continent, but to N. York, to buy up all that can be procured. Whether the means employed for obtaining it include the raising of money on the hypothecation of stocks, or the sale of sixty days paper created for the purpose, is a point which will doubtless give rise to some interesting conjectures.

Amid all the confusion, the remarkable fact of the total absence of commercial failures, not merely in England and Germany, but in France, where all the mischief originaled, is still presented. Not a single rumor of difficulty of this kind has yet been heard.

The Bank of Amsterdam yesterday raised its rates of discount to 5 per cent. Up to the end of last month it had stood at 4 per cent.; but it the displacement of silver by gold is increasing, and, as the point is wholly independen of the existing crisis, it must continue to attract attention, even after the prevailing embarrass-ment has subsided. Austria is believed to contemplate the adoption of a gold standard whenever she returns to specie payments, and at Hamburg the Board of Commerce have just recommended the substitution of that metal for the existing silver currency.

The intelligence of an ultimatum having been forwarded by France and England to the King of Naples has been confirmed; and it was ex-pected to reach him yesterday. It is repre-sented to be of a very moderate character, but his Majesty is said to have determined upon a courage is perhaps stimulated by the belief that Louis Nanoleon would be no less frightened than himself at the prospect of a revolution in Italy: and that under these circumstances, coupled with financial distress in Paris, there is no reason to apprehend anything beyond make-believe measures According to some accounts, France has stipulated, that, although the com-bined fleets are to cruise off Naples, they shall not approach close to the city, as she believes that by this means all danger of an outbreak be avoided.

Accounts from Australia show that the gold production of the first half of 1856 has realized the expectations expressed at the beginning of the year. It was then said that a total equal to $60,000,000 might be relied upon in the twelve months. The actual shipments for six months appear to have been $31,600,000 in the same period, they were $23,600,000.

The report of the Liverpool cotton market for the week shows continued firmness.

The wheat market has remained without alteration. The next steamer from this side will be the SPECTATOR. Fulton, on the 22d. A Duel in Texas.—Wm. Autry, known as "Dock Autry," and Wm. Carson, fought a duel eight miles below Seguin. They used double-barrel shot-guns and six shooters, and commenced at 120 paces apart, and continued advancing and firing until within six or eight feet, when Carson was shot through with a six shooter and died in two hours. Autry was not hurt, but some buckshot struck him upon the first hurt, but some buckshot struck him upon the first he fire, too much apart to do any injury, and a pistol shot passed through his vest and shirt, just missing him. Autry immediately left, and was pursued by the sheriff of Guadalupe county, and overtaken sixty miles from Seguin and brought back. We learn that several others are implicated as seconds.—Austin State Times, Oct. 11.

The London Times thus pleasantly and cleverly commemorates the last small end of the Central American question:

Political and national events are apt to be small in their beginnings and in their endings. In shape they are pointed at both ends, and bulge out in the cen re. They make very little noise at firs'; then they get to be understood, excite attention, create discussion, and form the subjects of debates in Parliament; hen they gradually withdraw and disappear from the public eye, an occasional allusion in the public press just keeping up a faint shadow of existence till at last every trace is gone. They are emblematic, in short, of human life, which is brought up in the quiet of the nursery, is next found making a great show in Parliament or at the bar, or on the field of battle, and finally withdraws into the retirement which precedes the grave. The great Central American question has gone through the first and Is now in the last of these stages; having widened out from a very small point it has now arrived at a point again, and, having started in the retirement of the nursery, in which it was training for the noise and publicity which it subsequently attained, it has now entered on the retirement precedes a total demise. How difficult it was to attract any sort of attention to it at first! It was in vain that the press put on a grave look, or told its readers that there was more in the matter than they thought, that it might have serious issues, and that the little cloud which was less than a man's hand might herald a storm In spite of all warnings, the public would not for a long time either understand or care anything about Central America. Half the world did not know what Central America was, and it was too much trouble to look it out on the map. This was the nursery of the Central American question. Then gradually the public ear was caught, the contents of blue-books were exposed, fresh dispatches came in, questions from time to time were asked in Parliament, an ambassador was dismissed. the affair assumed an air of importance, 'ne press were full of it, everybody talked of it, and it arrived at its climax in the shape of an exciting debate in the House. That was the middle life of the Central American question. The second retirement then followed, preliminary to decease, in which passing allusion in the columns of American intelligence was all that remained of former greatness; and now the fatal goal is reached.

Our readers may or may not have observed the column of American intelligence in Monday's impression a document with the names of Clarendon and Herran appended to it. This was the copy of a convention between this country and the State of Honduras, in Central America, and the purport of ir is that the Bay Islands, near the coast of Honduras, are constituted a free territory under the sovereignty of Honduras, this country withdrawing from all claim of possession. This document, with an English and an Honduras name to it, finishes the great Central American question; Alexander's dust fils up a bunghole; the charges and recriminations of Governments, the rhetoric of Congress and the House of Commons, and the talk of the political world, repose in this little arrangement with a small, obscure, and remote Republic. We must observe that due attention seems to be given in this document to the importance of securing a neutral and independent neighborhood to the important isthmus which divides the two great oceans, and to the canal which will probably before forg cut it. The interests of the whole commercial world require an independent neighborhood there as a ecurity for free and uninterrupted commerce. The Republic of Honduras engages "not to erect, or to permit to be erected, any fortifications on the said islands, or any other islands in the Bay of Honduras;" and the "contracting parties agre to communicate the present com vention to all other maritime Powers, and to in-

THE LONDON TIMES HOAXED. - In a summay of the news by the latest arrived European steamer, we find the following:

Some wag has imposed on the London Times a most extraordinary hoax on the subject of railway traveling in the Southern States. The wag signs himself, "An Eye-Witness;" and, although his story is densely confused, its substance is, that, traveling recently in the cars between Macon and Augusta, Ga., two young men, A. and B, fell in love with two young ladies; had a difficulty on the subject; C. pro-posed they should fight it ou'; whereupon a general discussion upon dueling arose; conduc-E. was killed; C. afterwards challenged G. went into a smoking car, and killed him. then seized a little boy, son of the slain C. took him upon the platform, killed him, and threw him over; whereupon conductor again stopped cars, and I. killed J; K. wanting to kill L, but, being behind time, conductor went ahead and reached Macon O. A Child Eaten by a Bear .- Near Rocky Point, in Greenbrier county, Va., on Thursday week, at the residence of Wm. T. Mann, George Fox, about 15 years old, was instantly killed and partly eaten up by a large pet bea, belonging to Mr. Mann. This boy had on the day previous killed a ground-hcg, and in carrying or skinning the same got some blood on his clothes. Not having changed his clothes, the bear, probably excited by the scent of the blood, lay hold of him around the body and squeezed him until his ribs were broken, then knocked him down with his paw, and eat very nearly all the flesh off his face and legs before he was dead. There being no one about the house but a lady, she was unable to relieve

N. B. Ha doome hearses and superior hacks, with eareful drivers, always on land. Love and Suicide—Truth Stranger than Fic-tion—Infatuation—We yesterday noticed the arrest, on a charge of bigamy, of a woman named Elizabeth Seely—the charge having been preferred by her husband, Joseph Seely. A hearing was had, and in default of $1,500 bail she was committed, but afterwards released at the request of the complainant. Mr. Seely at the time manifested the most ardent attachment for his wife, and seemed to be anxious to place her in a proper position, although wavering be-tween love and justice. She was at length al-lowed to depart, and the matter was lost sight of until to day

At about 9 o'clock this morning, High Constable Trefts, while passing through independence square, noticed a man, apparently intoxicated, staggering along one of the walks. He approached and recognized him as Mr Seely, and, thinking there was something strange in his appearance, asked a few questions as he was about being seated. The answers and the motion of the man, who was trying to secrete something in his pocket, induced the constable to it quire "what he had there" and by a quick motion to jork his hand forms. motion to jerk his hand forward. He then discovered a two-ounce phial, labelled "landa-num," and Seely immediately confessed to hav ing taken all of its contents except a very small Seely was conveyed to the Mayor's office, and inedical assistance sent for. Dr. S. P. Brown arrived and administered proper emetics, the man being at the same time kept in active motion, and shortly after the patient was so far recovered as to induce every hope of his ultimate restoration to health. So much for the plain, unvarnished facts in the case, but more was ascertained in connection with the sub-

> Yesterday afternoon, after the issue of our sheet, we received a letter from Joseph Seely, confirming the facts of the bigamy charged, as we had stated them, and giving many reasons for his apparently singular conduct. It is sta-ted that an invidious and designing friend had acted a dastardly part towards his wife; that she favoring him, had deceived her husband and igned as a left by which she are joined in a plot by which she was to fice to Liverpoo; that Seely, on hearing of this plot, had procured her arrest in order to detain her in this country, and that the action had been taken entirely through his affection for her.

To be had of RAYMOND & PATTEN AU BELLI, TAL-BOT, & CO., and of Druggiats and Dealers throughout the United States, Canadae, and British Provinces. This morning, upon the would be suicide after his rash act, another letter was found by a prying individual, directed to the wife. It was one of the most touching epistles that we have ever read. Its whole tone was one of the utmost tenderness and sensitive feeling. The date was this morning, and the avowed intention was to commit suicide, and the object of the was to commit suicide, and the object of the letter to declare his forgiveness and bid her a final adieu. The document is before us, but its verbatim repetition would interest only the morbid seekers of the horrible, and be a libel upon the finer feelings of the heart.

Seely, it appears, is an Englishman by birth, and in his native country was the owner of a farm, upon which in early life he resided. He served for two years and a half in the commissary department of the British army in the Crimea, and was at the battle of Inkermann and the storming of Sebastopol. He escaped without a wound. He came to this country and visited Albany, N. Y, where he was introduced and married to the person with whom he is now so infatuated, and who lived at Binghampton,

N. Y. This took place a few weeks ago.

After marriage the couple came to this city, and the husband ascertained, by the admission of his wife, that she had been previously mar-ried, but that her former husband had deserted her and taken another spouse, and that she had lived an immoral life afterwards. While they were sojourning in this city she left Seely, with some person at present unknown, and this proceeding induced him to have her arrested her acknowledged crime, bigamy, as stated. The course of events since, we have narrated.

About neon, to-day, the unfortunate man who had partially recovered from the effects of the laudanum, attempted again to take his own life, by strangulation with his hankerchief, while in the cell. He was fortunately detected in time to avoid fatal results. He will be sent to the almshouse or the hospital. We have never before met with so strange an instance of infatuation as this just recorded.

Alexander, of Kentucky, a gentleman whose name stands high as a great purchaser of our best animals, and who, in a recent visit to this counorients, and who, in a recent visit to this country, bought the celebrated horse Scythian, by Orlando, winner of the Derby (by Touchstone), one of the best stallions this country ever produced, whose pedigree and performances are well known in the sporting world.

He was winner of the following prizes: Newmarket Stakes, £350; Dee Stakes, Chester, £750; Goodwood Stakes, £350; the Nowachter, Goodwood Stakes, £950; the Newmarket Royal Stakes, £1,240; the Chesier Cup, £2,775; Stockton, £530; Goodwood, £539. This valuable horse, for which Mr. Alexander gave 1,500 guineas, accompanies the above cattle. Liverpool Times, Oct. 28.

Horrible Affair—A Genteman Scalded to Death by His Own Servants—It was announced in last Saturday's Express that Lewis B Norquietly. At the Sixth Ward poll at Irishman drew a revolver and was knocked down. One inst., in a sudden and mysterious manner. About his usual hour of retiring, 9 o'clock, his over seer left him in his chamber. He was then in his usual health and condition, both of mind and body. Some two hours after, his negroes reported to the neighbors that he had fall n in the fire and been burned to death. The neighbors immediately assembled and found him a corpse. Burns upon different parts of his person were discovered, but his hair was not singed even, and his clothing was without a scorch. Under the circumstances, it was sup-posed that the burns must have been scalds from hot water. His two little daughters were asleep at the time in the chamber, but of course could tell nothing of the sudden and mysterious manner in which they had been deprived of their

An examination being instituted, suspicion rested upon his negroes, and it is now ascer-tained that he was foully and shockingly mur-dered by two of the slaves. From such facts as we have been enabled to gather, it seems that a negro man belonging to him had for some time absented himself. Mr. Norwood suspected that two of his negroes were harboring the runaway and, to prevent a continuance of the practice. had for several nights previous to his murder locked up the two suspected in an out-house on his premises. On the fatal night, however, he was s'unned by a blow, and a large pot of boil-ing water, which had been prepared for the purpose, was poured through a funnel down his threat until life became extinct.

He was then conveyed to his chamber, and the neighbors apprised of the death, as we have stated above. We understand that two of his negroes have been arrested and are now in jail. Others probably will be implicated as participants in this diabolical outrage. It is one of the most cruel and afrocious murders that we have been called upon to record, and we sin-cerely trust that the fiendish perpetrators may pay the penalty of the horrid crime by a for-feiture of their lives.

Destruction of a Ship by Fire .- The bark N. Boynton, which arrived yesterday from Mar-seilles, brought to port Captain Lewis and the crew of the Southern Belle, of Beverly, which had been destroyed by fire on the passage from Liverpool to Boston. Capt. Hosmer, of the N. Boynton, reports that he spoke the ship on the 16th inst., in lat. 44 03, lon. 50 03; and on the 17th, at 12 M., saw a ship to windward, running for him, and on her approaching she proved to be the Southern Belle, on fire. The bark laid by her for the condition of the ship to be ascertained, and on opening the hatches she wasfound to be on fire and full of smoke. crew secured what provisions they could and went on board the ship, and at 8 P M. the flames broke out in a mass. They laid by her until mignight, and at 3 A. M. the flames sudlenly disappeared. The Southern Belle was a fine vessel of 1.198 tons register, built at Marblehead this year, and valued at $60,000. She had a valuable assorted cargo, a portion of which is insured in this city and the balance in Southern where the vessel is also extend to be in-Boston where the vessel is also stated to be insured.—N. DWARF PEARs. - There is no subject upor which experienced men differ so greatly as in their views of the value of the dwarf pear. By dwarf pears, we mean trees grafted or budded on stocks which so change their habits as to make them early productive or dwarfish. For this purpose several stocks have been used with various success. The thorn, the mountain ash, and the quince each has been found to answer the purpose, but experience teaches that the quince is the only stock for dwarfing the pear which offers a fair chance of a healthy tree, and the Angers quince, the only variety that answers the purpose well, all other kinds being found to produce short-lived trees. The Angers quince is a very vigorous variety, and it is on this account that it is suitable as a stock for the pear. In speaking therefore of dwarf pears, we wish to be understood as referring to pears worked on Angers quince stock and no other. As before stated, there is a great difference of opinion as to the value of these dwarf trees. Many persons who have as they think given them a faithful trial have prorounced them valuless, while others in similar localities have been highly satisfied with them. Why is this? Who shall decide as to their value when good authority is so divided in opinion? There are a few things to be considered in this connection which may explain this diversity of experience, which we will mention.

It is well known that as yet but few kinds of pears are uniformly successfully worked on the quince, a very few which produce hetter fruit on this stock than on their own root, others again that do well as dwarfs in some sections and totally fail in others, still others that seem to flourish for a few years, and probably produce one good crop of fruit and then cease to grow, and, after lingering a few years truly pitiable objects, with their mossy stems and superannuated looks, gradually cease to live; another class totally refuse to grow upon the quince at all. These different peculiarities have been found out by experience only, and from the nature of them it will be seen that many cultivators must have bought their experience at the expense of years of disappointed expectation. Thousands of trees have been sold by honest parties, under the belief that they were well suited to this stock from limited experience or for want of knowledge that they were successful only in a limited locality, when after a few years more experience they could only regret the injury thus unintentionally rut upon innocent parties. The great popu larity and consequent demand for dwarf trees has compelled a hasty supply furnished by parties who would now with more experience by no means furnish such extensive lists.

Again, it is found that dwarf pears require peculiar treatment or they will entirely fail. Experience teaches that all of the quince stock, no matter how high from the ground the bud is inserted, must be buried under the surface a. least one inch. The philosoppy of this is, that by keeping th : close-grained compact quince wood always moist and cool it partakes of the nature of the root wood; that it is more porous and consequently can supply sap enough to keep the more vigorous pear in healthy growth, whereas, if exposed to the atmosphere, it be--omes so close grained as to check the pear in its growth, and ultimately starve it to death. It is on this account and not because the pear puts out roots of its own above the point of union that this treatment is necessay.

It is also found to be absolutely necessary to give much better culture and an annual dressing of manure to dwarf trees, or failure may be expected; this is requisite because the quince roots have hut a limited range, and as they thus dwarf the pear they must have their food placed within their reach.

From all we can learn on this subject, together with a limited experience, we are prepared to say that for orchard purposes, except to plant between standard trees, dwarf pears are of doubtful utility, requiring too much attention and being attended as yet with too much uncertainty to be fully reliable; but for the garden, for the amateur, and for limited plantations they are well suited, and, with a judicious selection of those kinds only that have been well tested, they will in these conditions prove highly satisfactory. At present the list of those that can be fully relied upon in all localities is very limited. The attention of the American Pomological Society at their late meeting was directed to this subject, and when we get their proceedings we will give their list of such as can be relied upon in all localities.

Notwithstanding it has been known for several years that no other than the Angers quince or some other equally as free-growing variety would answer for stocks, thousands are annually sold worked on the common orange quince. These trees will all of course disappoint their owners after receiving three or four years' attention. As the Angers quince is now generally disseminated through the country, we presume this cause of failure will rapidly dimin-

Our own experience with dwarf pears is confixed to six or seven years, but it has been highly satisfactory within a limited range of varieties, yet we may have some kinds doing weil which would fail at the distance of only a few miles, as we have succeeded in planting over fifty kinds on the quince stock. The only sure way for the novice to avert disappointment is to plant only such as are uniformly successful, and of these we now only venture to mention the Duchess de Angouleme, Louise Boune of Jersey, Glout Morceau, and Buffum.

Since writing the above we have received in the Country Gentleman the following account of the proceedings of the American Pomological Society, in which this subject of dwarf bars is discussed. We refer to their list, recemmended as it is by representatives from nine- culture of the pear as a dwarf, and some gen- tion.

ent experience all over the country will justify. The whole report will be found highly interesting to fruit-growers:

AMERICAN POMOLOGICAL SCCIETY. We continue our condensed report of the proceedings of this body at Rochester, going omewhat into detail in relation to the merits of each sort, as we do not often have an opportunity of presenting to our readers such widely drawn experience, and which cannot fail to be of value, not merely to nurserymen, in deciding on the merits of the several sorts under discussion, but to fruit-growers generally throughout the country in making selections for planting.

Osband's Summer pear was highly commended by all who spoke of it, as a free grower, and as a handsome, good sized, and very fine fruit. It was placed on the list "promising well" fruit.

Beurre Nautsis, an early autumn, very fine, and handsome pear, was placed on the same list.

The Graslin pear was highly spoken of by those who had tried it.

The Dix brought out many conflicting opinions. The quality of the fruit was highly approved, but its tardiness of bearing was looked upon as a serious objection by several. Col. Wilder said he had trees nineteen years old that had never berne, and twenty-five years old that had not borne a peck. It cracks badly on his grounds. It was also stated that B. V. French, of Mass., had trees nineteen years grafted on old stocks that had never borne. S. Walker, of the same region, has found it to hear in six years; and —— Paul, of Mass., had had fruit on grafts but two years old. He re-garded it the finest of pears. It had also proved excellent and valuable in Indiana. A divided vote had prevented its being placed on the list for general cultivation, and it was admitted to the list promising well, but not unani-

Bleeker's Meadow produced an expression of still greater diversity. W. R. Prince highly lauded it, regarding it equal to the Seckel. A. H. Ernst, of Cincinnati, admitted that it was great bearer and fine grower, but the fruit he found "perfectly worthless" J. S. Cabot of Mass, thought it not worth raising. Dr. Brinckle, of Philadelphia, had found it very fine, and thought that house-ripening would have rendered it so in some it stances where it had failed. All admitted its unequalled productiveness, its hardiness, and free growth, and it was stricken from the rejected list, where it had previously stood, for further trial of its merits.

Passans du Portugal was likewise stricker off the rejected list, as some esteem it.

PEARS ON QUINCE STOCKS.

The Belle Lucrative was proposed as a sort succeeding well on quince. C. M. Hovey objected, as it does not succeed well with him. With Wm. Reid, of New Jersey, it does "tolerably well." With P. Barry of Rochester is grows well, but not equal to some others he has ten year trees that are healthy, but he was in favor of cutting down the list, and recommending those only that will undoubtedly succeed. C. M. Hovey said, that, although he had trees twelve years old that grew tolerably well, he thinks its growth not good enough to recommend it universally to the world at large. It was however left on the recommend-ed list.

The Beurre d'Amalis, well known as one o the finest growers on quince, although of doubt ful quality, appears to be gaining more favor in the Eastern States. Wm. Reid had found it to rot at the core, and to be of only ordinary quality. Several had prevented rotting by picking early. R Buist said that in cold latitudes or high situations it succeeded well-in low and warm localities it was more liable to rot.

Beurre d'Arjou was recommended without a single objection as well adapted to growth on the quince.

Beurre d'Aremberg—pronounced by M. P.
Wilder, J. S Cabot, and others, as a poor grower on quince; by Wm. Reid and others, as poor in growth on both pear and quince, and by W. R. Prince as "contemptible on quince."

Beurre Diel, Figue d'Alencen, Louise Bonne

of Jersey, Duchess Argouleme, Glout Morceau, were all highly recommended for this mede of culture.

Napoleon-admitted by all to be a fine grower as a dwarf, but objected to by several on account of its quality. A. H. Ernst had found it "utterly worthless" at Cincinnati, and Wm. Reid regarded it as unworthy of cultivation in New Jersey. Nouveau Poiteau Rosteizer, Lang-elier, and Soldat Laboreur, were all acknowl-edged as fine growers, but the latter was objected to by some on account of its inferior quality. Triomphe de Jodolgne was struck from the list of dwarfs, and Urbaniste highly recommended. J. S. Cabot said that no pear formed a better pyramid than the latter, and M. P. Wilder stated that his trees had borne large crops for seven years, sometimes one barrel on each tree, while a dozen specimens had not been obtained from similar trees on the pear. F. K. Phonix, of Illinois, said there was no hardier pear in the west. Vicar of Winkfield was recemmended as one of the best for quince.

White Doyenne or Virgalieu brought out much discussion, and many discordant results were stated. Cracking of the fruit had proved a formidable obstacle to success, in several places. A H. Ernst said that at Cincinnati after failing for some years, the trees had re-sumed bearing good fruit, showing the importance of not rejecting any sort too soon.

Winter Nelis was proposed, but several objected. Kingsessing was admitted by all who nad tried it to form a beautiful pyramid, but to need longer trial.

Brandywine—This had been tried seven years each by W. P. Townsend of Lockport, by Wm. Reid of New Jersey, and H. E. Hooker, of Rochester, and all had found it to succeed finely on the quince. P. Barry, however, did not consider this as a sufficiently long trial to warrant a full recommendation for general cultivation, as some kinds, the Belle Lucrative for ex ample, do well for about ten years, and then fail. Beurre Superfin was spoken of like the Kingsessing and Brandywine. The Gray Doyenne had not generally succeeded well on

Flemish Beauty was found by a number of cultivators to be a poor grower at first, but afterwards to make a fine tree. Hooker, of Rochester, and Saul, of Newburg, could not make Doyenne d'Alencon. Epine Dumas, Beurre Doyenne d'Alencon. Epine Dumas, Beurre Sterkman, Tyson, and Kirtland, were all highly spoken of for this purpose, although trials had not extended through many years. Several spoke well of Passe Colmar, others sald it was a "moderate" grower, and a few pronounced it "poor." The Buffum was regarded by most as "one of the best," but Hovey objected.

P. Barry, being called upon, made some remarks showing that annual pruning is absolutely necessary, that the branches would over-bear unless portions were pruned out, and that even the best varieties might die out from overbearing. Col. Wilder had trees in healthy growth, 25 years old, and mentioned instances of trees in Europe 100 years old. W R. Prince said that the trees in the garden of the London Horticultural Society at Chiswick are over 35 years old and are now flourishing.

GRAPES.

The Isabella, Catawba, and Diana being already on the list for general cultivation, the Delaware was proposed to be added. Charles Downing had found it one of the best, hardy, and ripening well. Dr. Brinckle' thought it a firs'-rate native grape—Dr. Grant had found it perfectly bardy, and stated that it was first discovered in New Jersey, and has been in Ohlo some 25 or 30 years. It was added to the list of those that "promise well"

A. Saul proposed the Rebecca—it was pronounced tender, because partly of exotic parentage, not intrinsically hardy. C. Downing said it was perfectly hardy, but a moderate grower, and Dr. Grant stated that it had endured three winters with red three winters, with a portion of intensely severe weather, uninjured. It was recommended as promising well. Dr. Grant proposed the To Kalon Prince and Hovey could hardly distinguish it from Ca-tawba, and therefore thought not worth while to recommend it. C. Downing said it was quite a distinct grape from the Catawba, and darker and better than either that or Isabella. Dr. Grant said it was wholly different from the Catawba, being "nearly black" in color. A. Saul said it was "black," and thought it better than either of the others mentioned. thought it one week earlier than Isabella, and C. Downing as rivening at the same time as the Catawba. It was left for further examina-

Union Village-the character of this was prosounced much the same as that of the Isabella, but a little earlier. It was commended as "promising well."

Concord. C Downing had fruited it and found it about 10 days earlier than the Isabel la—Col. Frost of Schuyler county, about six days before Isabella—W. Reid of New Jersey had found it a week earlier, and had formed a more favorable opinion of it than seeing it at Boston H. E. Hooker of Rochester said that on his grounds it was not so early as Diana, but ripeted about the same time as Isahella.

A fact was stated by - Hanford of Indiana, showing the importance of a dry bottom for grapes. On a porous soil, vines had withfor grapes. On a porous soil, vines had with-stood 31 deg. below zero, but on impervious subsoil they were killed.

APPLES.

Several of the fine standard sorts at the East succeed but imperfectly at the Southwest, more particularly the Rhode Island Greening. The Benoni has been found fine through the West, and, with the Primate, was recommended for general cultivation.

Rambo. This had proved fine throughout the West and in California-had been one of the hardiest trees for the hard winters of the West. E D. Hobbs, of Kentucky, said his young nursery and orchard trees had withstood 26 degrees below zero uninjured. At the North It is smaller, and needs a rich soil. In New Jersey and eastern Pennsylvania it has somewhat deteriorated-fine in western Pennsylvania. It was recommended for general cultivation by a strong vote.

King, of Tompkins county, N. Y, had many votes for placing it on the list for general cultivation, but, a few heing against this, it was recommended as promising well. The Wagener was placed on the same list. The High-Top Sweeting (same as Summer Sweet and Sweet June), which has proved especially valuable the oughout the West, was adopted for general cultivation. The Carolina Red June (ripering closely after Early Harvest and for several weeks succeeding) was recommended as prom-

The Jonathan elicited higher praise from all quarters than we expected. J. H. Whitney, of Roches'er, said that two trees on his grounds 10 years old had borne more than any ten others. Another case was mentioned of a tree in Cayuga county which hore a hushel the fifth year from transplanting. Through the West the fruit is large and fine. It was placed on the list for general cultivation by a large and gene-

Bergen's Yellow was pronounced unproductive in Western New York and North Caroll-na-in Indiana, productive and fine. Serrate Early York blights hadly in North Carolina Gros Mignon, unproductive in different places Morris White, very tender in Northern Indiana. Crawford's Early succeeds everywhere, and was adopted for general cultivation. The Susquehannah, one of the largest and finest Pennsylvania sorts, was placed on the list, promising

Hill's Chili, recommended by Dr. Sylvester, as "yellow fleshed, fine, though hardly first rate—productive, late, and fine for market;" and by H. E. Hooker, as "well known, homely, but productive and fine," was recommended as promising well. Oldmixon Cling was adopted as worthy of general cultivation. Large White as worthy of general cultivation. Large White Cling; recommended in Downing's work on fruits, brought out conflicting views, and was erased. Dr. Brinckle proposed Gorgas, a seedling from Morris's White, but twice its size, and with a red skin and white flesh—adopted as promising well. Madeleine de Courson, and Hatif de Ferriers, were also similarly adopted. Early Tillotson was stated by —— Hanford of Northern Indiana to have no equal there as westbrook said it was highly esteemed in North Carolina—but several at the north objected to its strong liability to mildew. — Thompson, of California, said that the Strawberry peach proved fine there.

CHERRIES.

Black Eagle-unproductive in North Caro lia-in Massachusetts, always takes the first prizes, and is dedidedly the best variety, according to Col. Wilder. The Downton was erased from the general list, for its unproductiveness. The Napoleon Bigarreau was stated to rot badly in Massachusetts and in some parts of Western New York-while it was strongly recommended as succeeding well in New Jerisey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Newburgh, N. Y., and in Northern Indiana. It was put on the list "for certain localitics." American Ambara and all the second of the list "for certain localitics." "sekel—Several said "grows well;" others "grows very well," Buist said "magnificent" when double worked. Some thought the Seckel dwarfish enough already, and an early bearer, while others remarked that with them "it would not grow at all."

Longevity of Dwarfs—Allusion was made to several recent articles from a correspondent in the Horticulturist, as tending to discourage the culture of the near as a dwarf, new things, New Sey, Fennsylvania, Delawate, Rewining, Rewining, Rewining, New Sey, Fennsylvania, Delawate, Rewining, Personal Proposition of the list "for certain localities." Frost Gage was erased from the list on account of its liability to the black knot.

McLaughlin. Col. Wilder said it had proved exceedingly fine away in Maine and Nova Scotia, where the marcury goes to 30 degrees below zero, and everywhere else he has heard below zero, and everywhere else he has hear from it—tree very hardy, and fine grower and bearer, and fruit about equal to Green Gage.

The White Damson, Felleneerg or Italian Prune, Duane's Purple, German Prune, Gea.
Hand, Bradshaw, Large Black Imperial, and Pond's Seedling, were placed on the list of these promising well. Prince's Yellow Gage and Lombard were recommended for general cuitivation.

RASPBERRIES.

Orange and French were placed on the list for general cultivation, and the following recommended as promising well, viz: Cushing, Cope, Thunderer (from Rivers, resembles Fran-conia), Ohio Everbearing, American Red Pro-lific, and Catawissa. The American Red Pro-lific was said by W. R. Prince to be the great market raspberry of New York city, habit like that of Blackcap-also recommended by W. Lawton and others. Some had tound it hadly affected by blight or fungus on the leaves. Catawissa was pronounced by Dr. Brinckle as the best bearer he ever saw. Prince said it is a perpetual variety of the American Prolific, already named.

STRAWBERRIES.

McAvoy's Superior, Hooker, Genesee and Longworth's Probfic, were recommended as promising well.

New York city was designated as the place for holding the next biennial session of the American Pomological Society.
